2018 marks the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Riverway, comprised of over 200 miles of the St. Croix and Namekagon Rivers

- Listen to engaging stories of the St. Croix and learn how the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act was critical to its preservation and remains essential into the future
- Learn about In A New Light, a therapeutic nature photography program at Northwest Passage that emphasizes skilled expressive arts training and nature immersion and empowers marginalized youth to define themselves by their strengths rather than their weaknesses
- Network with parks and nature experts, artists, historians, business-owners and community leaders and take home ideas for successful cross-sector collaborations
- Community updates: share your recent successes with our many partners

Symposium Speakers:

Julie Galonska Superintendent of St. Croix National Scenic Riverway, National Park Service
Deb Ryun, Executive Director of St. Croix River Association
Dave Drewiske Executive Director Kinnickinnic River Land Trust
Ian Karl Experiential Coordinator Northwest Passage, Ltd.
